Local Businesses and Citizens To Be Honored for their Commitment to Employment and Services for Individuals with Developmental/Intellectual Disabilities

The Clark County Developmental Disabilities Advisory Board is happy to announce that Curt Warner, beloved community member, former Seahawk, and business owner will be our Keynote Speaker!

Purpose: October is National Disability Employment Awareness Month. The Clark County Community Awards honor the role people with developmental disabilities have in assisting us to achieve a dynamic, productive workforce and recognize the leadership of the business community.

Recipients of the Community Awards will be honored at the Disability Employment Awareness Event, on Wednesday, October 7 at 4:00–6:00 pm at the Heathman Lodge in Vancouver, WA.

Awards will be given in the following categories:

1. Large Employer of people with developmental/intellectual disabilities (50 or more local employees)
2. Small Employer of people with developmental/intellectual disabilities (49 or less local employees)
3. Employee with a developmental/intellectual disability
4. Dennis Campbell Outstanding Service Award for outstanding service to improving the lives of individuals with developmental/intellectual disabilities
5. Innovative New Hire (Employer) which demonstrates an advancement in the community, employment, and opportunities for people with developmental/intellectual disabilities and the business community

Please join the celebration!
