Clark County will discuss options to update the local growth plan

Clark County has established a foundation to update the local Comprehensive Growth Management Plan for homes and business over the next 20 years.

The foundation includes a population forecast and jobs target recently adopted by the Board of County Commissioners. County planners will now begin to identify potential areas for residential and non-residential uses, in cooperation with Battle Ground, Camas, La Center, Ridgefield, Vancouver, Washougal, Woodland and Yacolt.

Alternative proposals will be available for public review and comment this fall, before the commissioners consider any formal actions to update the growth plan.

“Once we have proposals in hand, we will step up our efforts to involve the public in shaping options for the board,” said Oliver Orjiako, Community Planning director.

The commissioners have chosen a medium-growth scenario to plan for increasing population, coupled with a major push to greatly improve job prospects for local residents.

NACCC Meeting Notes

“The jobs target is very aggressive and will require an adequate supply of land designated for non-residential uses,” Orjiako said. “We also will need capital facilities plans to support the build out and meet goals for economic development.”

NEIGHBORHOOD ROUNDTABLE

Commander Steve Shea advised that there were two serious motorcycle accidents today. One motorcycle driver died at the scene. He reminded everyone to be aware that the nice weather means there are potentially more motorcycles on the road and to be vigilant when driving.

Commander Horch said he will be meeting with Mark McCauley and Mark Wilson, regarding a cost analysis and options for improving the Central Precinct facility. As many of us know the building needs some fixin'. There was discussion about how the current building doesn't lend itself to CCSO needs and how important it is to address the problem.

Meeting adjourned.
Next meeting: July 14, 2014
