Silas D. Maxon

Silas D. Maxon was born November 23, 1814, in Davies County, Kentucky. After the death of his mother, the family moved first to West Virginia, then to Ohio, and finally to Missouri. He was married to Mary Harlow. They came west in a wagon train commanded by Captain Patterson and arrived at The Dalles, Oregon in October of 1847. Although the journey was made safely, it was not without its excitement. The Pawnees were on the warpath and kept emigrants on the alert. At the Boise River, the Snakes assumed a threatening attitude, but our subject and his party made barricades with their wagons and prepared to fight should need be. They stayed for a time at the claim of his brother, Hamilton, in Waldo Hills and continued to prove it up while he was away with the military. After the war, he went to the California Gold fields, returning in the fall of 1849. The brothers decided to seek a Donation Land Claim near Washougal, and they both moved their families there and engaged in the sawmill business.

They built their mill at the mouth of the Washougal Creek where it joins with the La Camas River. In 1852, they suffered a disastrous fire and the mill burned to the ground along with their stock pile of 100,000 feet of cut lumber that was ready for sale. They rebuilt the mill, taking in Dan Stewart and John Morley as partners. A few years later, Silas sold out his interest in the mill and moved down the Columbia River to a place seven miles east of Vancouver where he farmed and raised cattle for the next 16 years. He was one of the organizers of the Clark County Agricultural and Mechanical Society on July 11, 1868. Mary died on December 17, 1852, soon after the birth of her son Joseph, leaving Silas with five young children to raise. She was buried in the Old City Cemetery at Vancouver. On the 4th of July, 1854, Silas married a widow, Mary Jane John Martin. She was born January 3, 1825 in Ohio, the daughter of Jacob John and Rachel Whitaker.

Silas was a member of the Odd Fellows Lodge and was the first Clark County Treasurer serving from 1850 until 1853. He served in the Lower House of the Territorial Legislature and was also a Justice of the Peace in Vancouver for many years. In June of 1857, he contracted the building of a jail for the amount of $1,155. It was completed in September of that year and was used by the County in that capacity for nearly 30 years. The first statement of the financial condition of Clarke County is dated December 2, 1850 and is chiefly remarkable for its simplicity. Treasurer S. D. Maxon was evidently keenly alive to the advantage of terseness and perspicuity. The report stands:

Sept. 20 – The amount put in the hands of the Collector.....	$1,728.28.4
Oct. 2 – Upon which has been paid by said Collector	1,219.54
Out of which there has been paid	550.00
 Balance remaining in the treasury	 $ 664.54
 Balance remaining in hands of Collector	 $ 508.74.4
Ten years later, we have 1860
July 18 – Receipts	$7,067.66¾
Disbursements	6,250.71
 Balance	 $ 816.95¾

And since that time its prosperity has been on the increase. True, there have been some heavy expenditures incurred during the County's existence, but none that have not added materially to her progress and which bear the impress of a proper anxiety on the part of her citizens to keep pace with the growth of the Territory and the development of Clarke County.ⁱⁱ

In the 1880s, he moved to Vancouver where he opened a General Merchandise and Seed Store and was also a harness maker. On December 22, 1881, his store was robbed of $450.

In 1856, Silas joined his brother, then “Captain” Hamilton Mason, in the Second Regiment of “Washington Mounted Rifles.” He was described in the military records as: 39 years old, 5’ 9” tall, blue eyes, black hair, and with a dark complexion. He suffered from neuralgic pain in one of his eyes affecting his sight. In May of 1880, his condition worsened and he was diagnosed as having glaucoma. On the advice of his physician, Dr. John Randolph Smith, he sought the help of a specialist in Portland, but on June 10, the eye had to be removed. His wife, Mary, died on September 25, 1881, and Silas passed away on December 27, 1888, of dropsy and heart failure in Portland, Oregon. They are buried with other family members in the Old City Cemetery at Vancouver.ⁱⁱⁱ

Henry Silas Burlingame

Henry Silas Burlingame was born on May 13, 1820, at Moriah, Essex County, New York, the son of James R. Burlingame (b. 1784, d. 1852) and Martha Hawks (b. 1785, d. after 1860). His first marriage was to Harriet Beebe, who was born in 1843 and died in 1852. He arrived in Clarke County on September 12, 1853, and served as County Treasurer for the 1853/54 term. In Vancouver, on March 16, 1854, Henry married Drusilla Short, the daughter of Amos A. Short and Esther Clark. Drusilla was born on January 15, 1834, in Washtenaw County, Michigan; her parents were one of the earliest to settle in Vancouver.

On June 20, 1855, the Burlingames settled on a Donation Land Claim of 320.25 acres next to the McCallisters on Fourth Plain. During the Indian hostilities of 1855/56, Henry served under Captain William Kelly in company “A” of the Washington Mounted Scouts and later in the Clark County Rangers, Second Regiment of the Washington Volunteers. He is described in the military records as: 5’8” tall, age 31, born in New York, dark complexion, black hair, with hazel eyes.

Henry died on May 7, 1890 and Drusilla passed away on October 8, 1896, both at Colfax, Washington.^{iv}

William Kelly

A Major in the 8th U. S. Calvary, William Kelly was born on June 23, 1818, at Hillsey, England. He was married to Mary Ann Louisa Wright at Halifax, Nova Scotia, Canada, on May 15, 1837. Mary Ann was born at Gibraltar on December 13, 1821. Her brother, Joseph Wright, was a military Band Master stationed at Fort Vancouver.

The couple remained in Canada for several years after their marriage and migrated to New York about 1844. By 1850, they were living in Michigan and in 1852 in California. They arrived in Clark County in the fall of 1852, and on December 6, 1853, they settled on a Donation Land Claim of 318.79 acres in Twp. 2N. R. 1E. Sec. 2 and 3 at Salmon Creek. Their claim bordered that of Charles and Margaret Irby.

William stated in his claim application that he became a naturalized citizen of the United States in Chippewa County, Michigan. He was an early candidate for Clark County Treasurer and was also a merchant. He is frequently mentioned in Donation Land Claim papers as an administrator of estates. During the Indian Wars of 1855/56, William was Captain in Company "A" of the Washington Volunteer Mounted Scouts and later served in the Second Regiment of the Clark County Rangers. The military records of 1856 describe him as: age 38, born England, 5'6 ½" tall, fair complexion, fair hair, blue eyes, and a resident of Vancouver. Their son James followed his father's choice of a career, became a non-commissioned officer in the military, and was stationed at Fort Vancouver. He received the rank of Sergeant-Major in the fourteenth Regiment of the United States Army. James was sent to Dyea, Alaska, where he contracted spinal meningitis and died three days later on March 19, 1898. His body was shipped back to Vancouver Barracks and he was buried in the Post Military Cemetery with military honors and there was also a solemn requiem mass at St. James Catholic Church.

William passed away in Denver, Colorado, on December 28, 1871, and was returned to Vancouver for burial in the Post Military Cemetery. Mary Ann died in Portland, Oregon, on Christmas Day the following year and was buried beside her husband. ^v

Louis Sohns

Perhaps no man is better known throughout the length and breadth of Clarke County or more highly respected than is the subject of this brief sketch whose portrait forms the frontispiece to this work. Born at Beerfelt, Germany, April 29, 1827, he there received his education and resided until the year 1850 when he emigrated to the United States and remained in the Eastern States Courtesy of Clark Co. until 1852. In that year he came to the Pacific Coast by way of the Isthmus of Historical Museum Panama and here has he earned fame and fortune. His first business enterprise was in a painting establishment which he conducted until 1866 when he embarked in a general mercantile trade in partnership with D. F. Schuele, the present popular County Treasurer, with whom he has been associated ever since. The schemes having for their object the development of the county with which Mr. Sohns' name have been, and are, associated are legion. To him Vancouver owes the possession of the First National Bank (a history of which is given elsewhere) an institution of which he is the President. To him is due the establishment of the Puget Sound Manufacturing Company of Puyallup, there being associated in the enterprise Messrs. Frink & Co. of San Francisco, with Mr. Sohns, president, and A. S. Farquharson, manager; while, to him more than to any other official is the honor of bringing to a proper understanding the difference between the St. James Catholic Mission and the site of the city of Vancouver, an act he performed while he occupied the Civic Chair. These are but a very few of the deeds done by Mr. Sohns during the years of his residence in Vancouver. True it is said that he has prospered, but he has not selfishly hoarded his gains but has with an unstinting hand promoted the interests of the community, striven to anticipate their wants and labored hard to add beauty to their surroundings. The noble building on Main Street, Vancouver, is a witness to his public spirit, the new Masonic Hall is evidence of his fraternal feeling, and general rumor is the only indicator of his unassuming generosity. Mr. Sohns has served Clarke County in the Legislature and in the more humble walks of a public office. In these, as private, his chief aim has been to act honestly, according to his best conviction, and in acting up to the letter of which no man has yet failed to earn, not only the respect, but the regard of his fellow citizens.^{vi}

Joseph Petrain

The son of Jacques Pertain and Marie Anne Placie of St. David's Parish, Montreal, Canada, Joseph Petrain was born at St. Francis, Canada in 1820. On April 19, 1843, at Tualatin Plains, he was married by Father Modeste Demers to Mary Anne Wagner. She was born in 1825, the daughter of Peter Wagner and Marie Stomis, who was a Chinook Indian. They were the parents of three children before Mary Anne passed away at the age of twenty-two on December 20, 1847, at Vancouver, Washington.

Joseph Petrain was one of the earliest settlers in Clark County, coming to the area with the Hudson's Bay Company in November of 1836 and remaining in their employ for many years. He worked as a baker with his shop located in the northeast corner of the fort. On August 14, 1848, he married Catherine Dolan in a ceremony conducted at the Old Catholic Chapel built in the military reservation by priests sent out in 1838 by the Bishop of Quebec. Born in Ireland in 1832, Catherine was the daughter of William Dolan and Eliza Riley. Joseph went to the California mines in 1849 but soon returned to Vancouver where he took out a Donation Land Claim of 525.67 acres in November of that year, located in Twp. 2N., R. 1E., Sec. 8, 9, 16, 17, and 21 near Fruit Valley.

In 1857, he was awarded the contract to secure carpenters, buy materials, and build a room at the courthouse for use by the County Auditor. He was one of the chief witnesses in the dispute between the Hudson's Bay Company and the Army over the Fort and buildings at Vancouver. Later, Joseph became a probate judge in Clarke County, a position that he held for several years. At the time of his death from pneumonia on March 9, 1876, he had been a resident of Clark County for forty years. Catherine died of consumption on February 10, 1893. They are both interred in the Old City Cemetery.^{vii}

To the Tax-Payers of Clarke County.

Vancouver, January 23, 1866

Editors Register:

As everything relating to the paying of money for county purposes must be of interest to your readers, and any information to those who pay the taxes as to what purpose they are applied, and why they pay them, may be of general interest, permit me to propound the following interrogatories to be answered, by those who are most interested:

Why does the County Supervisor collect taxes in money, when under the law he is not authorized to collect a dollar?

What does he do with the money that he collects?

What authority has he to put the county of Clarke to two hundred dollars costs to attempt to collect taxes which he is not authorized by law to collect?

When prominent men in both political parties have not paid their taxes, why does he sue but one, and that one a Democrat?

A history of the case next week.

Financial.-The Territorial Treasurer informs us, that he finds charged on his books against Clark County the sum of $6,766.57 being due for assessments for 1865 and '66, and that the county stands credited with $3879.77, leaving due a balance of $2886.80 in favor of the Territory. On the other hand we learn from our county Treasurer, that the Territory is indebted to the county in the sum of about $1300.00. These statements don't jingle. The discrepancy is said to arise from the fact, that our county stands charged with the taxes due from Skamania County during these years and that the Territorial authorities have failed to receive the proper returns from this county of the delinquent taxes. Vancouver Register, December 15, 1866

This very capable public officer and highly respected merchant was born in Beaver County, Pennsylvania, January 29, 1838, but when eight years of age he was taken by his parents to Shelby County, Missouri, whither they had emigrated. Having remained in that state until September, 1856, our subject took passage for San Francisco via the Isthmus of Panama and proceeding thence to Portland, Oregon, arrived there during the month of October. He first resided in the vicinity of Aurora, Marion County, but in 1857 removed to Washington Territory, settled in Vancouver and there dwelt until 1861, when he essayed to try his luck in the mines of Idaho Territory. Returning in 1864 to Clarke County, in 1866 he embarked in a mercantile business, and in 1867, was elected by his fellow citizens to the responsible position of County Treasurer by the Republican party. To this same position he was called in 1884 and is the present holder of that function. He married Miss Josephine Eddings by which union there are three children, viz: Louis Frederick, Charles Henry and George Edward.^{viii}

CHAS. BROWN,
County Auditor of Clarke Co., W. T.
Vancouver, W. T., May 25, 1877.

The nominee for Treasurer, F. W. Bier, unlike others upon the ticket, now bowed down with an age of decrepitude and notwithstanding the past says, "Silvery hairs the brain doth," the people will find that Mr. Bier, with his golden locks, is well qualified for the position. He is a moral, temperate and steady young man, whom the voter may honor with his confidence without fear of after regret. The Vancouver Independent, September 23, 1876

APPORTIONMENT – The County School Superintendent has made the semi-annual apportionment of the school funds in the hands of the Treasurer, and the clerks of the several districts can procure their orders by calling at the Superintendent's Office in Vancouver. The apportionment is ten cents per scholar more this year than it was last year at this time. Any School District in Clarke County wanting the services of a first class teacher will do well to apply immediately to W. BYRON DANIELS, Supt. Schools Clarke Co. The Vancouver Independent, December 2, 1876

Brevities – Tax paying goes on lively at the County Treasurer's office. Only another month in which to pay up. The Vancouver Independent, December 2, 1876

Clarke County Statistics – August 9, 1877

CLARKE COUNTY STATISTICS. Mr. Geo. J. Tool'ey has finished taking the assessment of the county, and the roll is now in the hands of the Commissioners. It shows as the total assessment of the county, $770,935, being an increase over last year of $109,325. The total number of men liable to pay poll tax is COG; white males, 1,909; white females, 1,075; colored males, (Indians) 33; colored females, (Indians) 31; males of foreign birth, 301; females of foreign birth, 170; blind, 2; idiotic, 1; families, 731; dwelling houses, 730; total number of inhabitants on the first day of March last, 3,708. This does not include the floating population, which, together with tire immigration since the first of March, would make the amount something over 4,000. The Vancouver Independent, August 9, 1877

The new Revenue law adopted at this session as before stated contains a number of important innovations on the old law. Under its provisions the Territory is divided into two assessment districts, the first, composed of the eastern counties, and the second composed of the western counties of the Territory. In the former the assessment is made between the first Monday in April and the fourth Monday in June; in the latter it is made between the first Monday in February and the fourth Monday in April. One makes the return to the Co. Commissioners in August, the other in May of each year.

All taxes whether delinquent or otherwise, are collected by the Treasurer of the county, thus relieving the sheriff from all responsibility in the matter. This was deemed by many to be the most objectionable feature of the bill, but there was a deadlock between the House and the Council and it was either that or nothing, so at the last moment the House concurred in the Council plan. The bill exempts from taxation houses of public worship to the value of $3,000, burying grounds, all public property and $100 worth of household furniture. The Vancouver Independent, November 15, 1877

The County Treasurer is after delinquent taxpayers, and all concerned will do well to call and pay their taxes. The Vancouver Independent

Although the County Treasurer is not obliged to send notice to delinquent taxpayers, he has done so, entirely for their benefit. The Vancouver Independent, February 21, 1878

Taxes – There are many persons in the county who have not yet paid taxes whose post office address Treasurer Bier does not have. He will give to all such persons upon application a statement of their taxes due and payable. The Independent, February 28, 1878

Minutes of the Tenth Annual Meeting of the County
Treasurers' Association of the State of Washington

Held at Port Angeles, Washington
July 22, 23 and 24

A Few Words About Port Angeles, The Convention City

Situated on the north shore of the Olympic Peninsula and commanding a protected deep water harbor located near midway on the Strait of Juan de Fuca, through which passes all the ocean commerce of Puget Sound and the Gulf of Georgia, Port Angeles holds a unique and obviously indispensable position with respect to the future development and commerce of the Pacific Northwest. Its harbor, created by an immense sandspit more than three and a half miles in length and extending eastward enclosing on three sides fully five square miles of deep water anchorage, is known throughout the maritime world as an ideal haven. Sailing ships reach it from the Pacific ocean without the aid of tugs, and steamships without the local pilotage required for Puget Sound destinations.

Port Angeles was founded in 1861, and platted and reserved as a national city by personal direction of President Abraham Lincoln in 1863, sharing this distinction only with the national capital city. It is the county seat of Clallam County, which embraces an area of 1,119,757 acres and has a total population of about 10,000, including the present population of Port Angeles, which is fully 5,000, the municipal and school census taken in June, 1915, enumerating 4,782.

Until 1914, Port Angeles and Clallam County were isolated from railroad transportation connections, depending entirely upon local steamboat transportation facilities. In 1913 the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway began the construction of a branch line 77 miles in length and centering at Port Angeles. Twenty-five miles of this railroad, known as the Seattle, Port Angeles & Western, from the city westward, was completed and began operating in July, 1914. At the same time the Milwaukee system extended to Port Angeles the privilege of Puget Sound terminal freight rates, thus for the first time enabling Port Angeles timber product manufacturers to ship to Eastern markets on an equal footing with manufacturers located in Seattle and other Puget Sound terminal points. The remainder of the new railroad, from Port Angeles eastward to Port Townsend, was completed and in operation in October, 1915.

Coincident with the coming of the railroad, Clallam County carried out successfully an admirable program of road building, expending more than $500,000 since 1912 in the construction of excellent modern highways and automobile thoroughfares, extending from one end of the County to the other, opening to settlement and profitable development large areas of fine agricultural and fruit lands heretofore isolated, and rendering easily accessible the famous health and recreation resorts, mountain and ocean show places, such as Lakes Crescent and Sutherland, Sol Duc and Olympic Hot Springs and the majestic masses of the Olympic Mountains, whose watersheds afford homes for more than 7,000 Olympic elk, the largest of the elk species.

Early in 1915 the U. S. Forest Service completed a careful and thorough investigation of the forest wealth of the Olympic Peninsula, which bears the heaviest forest growth now standing on this continent. The report of this investigation shows that Clallam County has 25,447,300,000 feet board measure of standing timber of merchantable quality, including fir, cedar, spruce, hemlock and pine, making no account of large quantities of cottonwood, alder, maple and other useful and valuable woods. This is more than double the standing timber wealth of the entire State of Michigan, and is now for the first time rendered available for profitable manufacture in almost unlimited variety of marketable product.

As yet the timber industries are practically limited to the manufacture of lumber and shingles. There are six sawmills and twelve shingle mills in Clallam County. The largest lumber establishment is that of the Puget Sound Mills & Timber Co., Port Angeles, which began operating in July, 1914, and has been operated constantly ever since that time, employing 450 men in the mills and from 380 to 425 in the four contributing logging camps. This, one of the largest exporting mills on the Pacific Coast, has a daily output of 300,000 feet of lumber and 500,000 to 1,000,000 shingles, 75 per cent of which is shipped abroad in ocean-going vessels and the rest by rail over the Milwaukee system to Eastern markets.

Although only 4 per cent of the total land area of Clallam County has as yet been brought into agricultural use, dairying is the principal rural industry and has been quite profitably and successfully developed, with five creameries in operation. The average price paid by the creameries for butter fat exceeds 30 cents per pound, and the average dairy cow earns about $10 per month ten months in the year. Grass remains green the year round. There is no sultry heat, nor extreme cold, nor destructive storms of any kind, and seldom any snow. The average annual precipitation is 29.2 inches.

Climate and soil are highly favorable for the growing of poultry, swine, grains and grasses for stock food, all vegetables, large and small fruits and nuts. Bush and vine fruits are particularly favored crops, especially loganberries, raspberries, blackberries, currants and strawberries, local growers of which are now coming into commercial importance.

The completion of the Olympic Highway from Olympia north to Port Angeles and from Port Angeles west to Lake Crescent and to within two miles from the Pacific ocean beach at Mora, western Clallam County, in the summer of 1915 opened to tourists one of the most beautiful automobile drives in all the West, affording the practicability of a single day's motoring trip from Seattle via Tacoma and Olympia to Port Angeles, a distance of 204½ miles.

There are in Clallam County 58,000 acres of unimproved but excellent agricultural land from which most of the merchantable timber has been removed. Nearly all of this land lies within fifteen miles from the city of Port Angeles, and most of it is made accessible by modern gravel roads. Some of the best of this land is now available at from $25 to $50 per acre.

Port Angeles possesses an admirable townsite five and one-half miles in length and averaging one mile in width. The city owns and operates an electric lighting plant, the current being supplied by the Olympic Power Co., which has a magnificent hydro-electric power plant, built in 1913 at a cost of $1,500,000, situated on the Elwha river seven miles southwest from the city. This power plant supplies light and power to the cities and towns of the Olympic Peninsula, the U. S. forts and the U. S. Navy Yard at Bremerton. It is prepared to furnish power and lighting for all industrial purposes at extremely low rates, rendering it a most important element of constructive development.

The city and county both maintain unusually good public schools. The city has five public school buildings, including a magnificent reinforced concrete high school building, erected and furnished in 1913 at a cost of nearly $100,000. Its equipment includes fully appointed domestic science, manual training and chemical science departments.

All the leading religious sects are well established and maintained in the city, as well as practically all the prominent fraternal societies. Naval Lodge No. 353, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, has a $16,000 home and club house under construction in the business district of the city. Among the civic organizations and clubs are the Port Angeles Commercial Club, Women's Auxiliary of the Commercial Club, Port Angeles Improvement Club, Public Library Association, Clallam County Medical Society, Clallam County Automobile Club, Clallam County Pioneers' Association, Port Angeles Parents and Teachers' Club, Mountaineers' Club, Boy Scouts, Congregational Brotherhood and Clallam County Humane Society.

Port Angeles is a U. S. sub-port of entry, having a collector and an inspector of customs, an immigration inspector, a U. S. marine hospital surgeon and an auxiliary U. S. marine hospital, the general headquarters for pilots of Gulf of Georgia and Puget Sound waters, U. S. coast guard home port, and a British Vice-Consul.

Edix Hook, the great sand spit which protects the harbor of Port Angeles, is a government reservation, but two miles of its deep water protected frontage has been leased to the city gratis by the government for a period of ninety-nine years, and this choice property is now offered by the city as practically free sites for industries, together with rail and wagon road connections, access to deep water at the sites and city water service.

By unanimous vote the following were elected to honorary membership of the Association:

W. W. Sherman, Deputy State Treasurer,
E. S. Stewart, Deputy County Treasurer, Clallam County,
Ralph Davis, Deputy County Treasurer, Clallam County.

Former County Treasurer of Clallam County, C. L. Babcock, who is now a banker in Port Angeles, assured the County Treasurers, in his welcoming address, that everything was complete in the way of entertainment to make the visit in the city one long to be remembered.

The usual time for the election of the new officers having arrived, the President called for nominations for the office of President, but instead of nominating new officers, a motion was made and carried that the election of officers be laid over until Friday, the Twenty-third.

The Pioneer Bindery & Printing Company, through their Secretary, Mr. R. F. Raber, offered to extend the courtesy of their firm to the Treasurers' Association by printing the minutes of the Tenth Annual meeting, and their offer was accepted with pleasure by the Association.

PRESS COMMITTEE

C. L. Babcock, Clallam County Treasurer,
J. A. Bennett, King County,
Al Helander, Bureau of Inspection.

Report of Legislative Committee deferred until the afternoon session.

Program Committee agreed to report at the beginning of the afternoon session.

OF THE COUNTY TREASURERS' ASSOCIATION

Mr. Babcock outlined the plans that the entertainment committee had formed to give all the visitors a pleasant time in Port Angeles.

Mr. Boyle of Snohomish County addressed the Association on "Harmony That Exists But Does Not."

Mr. W. W. Sherman, Deputy State Treasurer, who comes to the convention for the first time, made a very interesting address on the office work of State Treasurer and the relationship between that office and the offices of the different county treasurers over the State of Washington.

Morning session adjourned to meet again at 2 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION

Meeting called to order by President Carr at 2 p. m.

Report of Legislative Committee was made orally by Mr. Al Helander, chairman of the committee. The report covered all legislation passed by the recent legislature that had to do with various laws and amendments that the Association had favored and worked for. Also he reviewed measures that had failed to be considered by the legislature and the possibilities of having these defeated measures come up again before our law making body much better than when first presented.

Mr. Helander gave full credit to the great work done by Mr. C. L. Babcock, who, as a member of the last legislature, accomplished a great work for better laws covering the duties of the County Treasurer.

Mr. Babcock followed Mr. Helander in a talk dealing with conditions as found among the average, if not the most, of the legislators making and amending laws. His talk showed that we, as county officials, see to it that we send men to the legislature who understand from the practical side what is needed in the way of laws that will enable the county officials to give better service. Mr. Babcock showed that the Association meetings were accomplishing a great good but that it was necessary for somebody to carry the resolutions to the legislative chambers in the shape of new laws.

The collection of Personal Taxes under the new law, whereby the Treasurer collects the delinquent taxes instead of the Sheriff, brought forth a general discussion as to its merits.

Mr. Bennett of King County did not certify his 1915 delinquent personal taxes to the Sheriff and told the Association of the better satisfaction his office had in collecting the taxes direct and the saving made by the new system.

Mr. Babcock and Mr. Helander explained the meaning of the new law and its object in making the Treasurer collect all delinquent personal taxes.

General remarks were made covering points in the new law and as to how we were to proceed to collect the personal taxes that are now assessed against the saloons in the State that go out of business January 1, 1916.

C. J. Carr explained the new law in regard to the covering the extra meetings of the Board of Equalization. As these extra meetings occur in November and April following the meeting of that body in August, a great many questions were asked about what power the Board would have in making corrections and in general just what authority they would have over the completed tax rolls.

A general discussion was made on the way certificates of delinquency were sold to the public or rather to the speculating public. A scheme was talked of that would be better for the delinquent taxpayer than the present method.

A lively debate was opened on the 15% interest charge for delinquent taxes, but after some hard bumps 15% decided to come back for the next convention prepared to challenge all comers.

J. L. Boyle made a motion as follows: "That a committee of five members be appointed to investigate and form a new and better law covering certificates of delinquency and this committee to report at the next meeting of the Association."

The motion was carried and the following committee was appointed:

John A. Bennett, King County.
J. L. Boyle, Snohomish County.
Jerry A. McGillicuddy, Jr., Grays Harbor County.
Guy Allen Turner, Walla Walla County.
E. C. Quackenbush, Okanogan County.

A general discussion took place covering delinquent taxes on State land which is held under contract by the purchaser. The opinion seemed to be that the State should require from the purchaser on contract a copy of his tax receipt covering the land held under contract, the same be forwarded to the proper office at Olympia as soon as the taxes were paid each year.

Motion made and carried that meeting adjourn until Friday Morning, July 23, 1915, 9:00 a. m.

FRIDAY MORNING SESSION

This motion made it necessary that the officers now serving be required to hold over in their positions during the 1915 session.

The following committees were appointed by President Carr:

The Association received by telegram an invitation from the South Bend Commercial Club, of South Bend, Washington, to hold the next meeting of the County Treasurers in that City. Mr. Glazebrook of Pacific County, also spoke in favor of South Bend and voiced the sentiment of her citizens in the fine welcome we would receive from the people of Pacific County.

Mr. J. L. Boyle made a motion that the 1916 meeting of the County Treasurers' Association be held in the city of South Bend. Motion carried.

A committee composed of J. L. Glazebrook and J. M. Peterson was named by the President to answer the telegrams from the South Bend Commercial Club by expressing to that organization our great appreciation of their pleasant invitation.

Mr. Boyle of Snohomish County made a very interesting talk on labor saving devices and efficiency machines as applied to the office of a county official. The Treasurers were very much interested in a cash register that Mr. Boyle has installed in his office.

Morning session adjourned to meet again at 3 p. m.

AFTERNOON SESSION

The Association had the great pleasure to be addressed by men prominent in the legislative constructive work of the Northwest and the Nation.

These interesting speakers were:

Senator Poindexter.
Secretary of the State of Washington, I. M. Howell.
Governor of the State of Washington, Ernest Lister.
Congressman from the First District, Hadley.
Congressman from the Third District, Albert Johnson.

Editor Reed of the Seattle Daily Sun paid the Treasurers a visit and made a pleasant little talk.

The following resolution was offered by Mr. Boyle of Snohomish County:

"Be it resolved, that this Association favor a law abolishing the three per cent rebate; that the first-half payment of taxes be made March 15th of each year and the last or second-half payment be made October 15th of each year; full payment of taxes be made May 31st with June 1st as the date of delinquency, and if second-half is not paid by October 15th then interest shall date from June 1st."

The resolution carried.

Former Treasurer B. F. Arnold, of Lewis County, asked for and received permission for a talk defending himself and his office from criticism as made by the State Bureau of Inspection. Mr. Arnold felt that the inspection was prejudiced and that the public was given the wrong impression, and it was his desire to change that opinion by bringing facts before the Association.

A communication from C. T. Sanders, former Treasurer of Grant County, expressed his regrets for being unable to get to the meeting. We regretted it too "Pop," for we missed you every day.

A general discussion was made on the collection of local assessment and drainage taxes.

Adjournment at 5:30 to meet again Saturday morning at 9:00 a. m.

SATURDAY MORNING SESSION, JULY 24, 1915

Meeting called to order by Vice-President Wood at 9:00 a. m.

Election of officers was first on the program.

Glazebrook, of Pacific County, was nominated for President, and also Wood, of Yakima County, was named for this position.

Mr. Wood desired to have his name withdrawn and his desire was granted.

A motion was made and seconded that nominations be closed and the Secretary cast the unanimous vote of the Association for Mr. Glazebrook as President. Motion carried and Mr. Glazebrook elected to the President's chair.

President Glazebrook on accepting his new position made a very pleasing talk.

Miss Maude Gilmour, of Kittitas County, was nominated for the position of Vice-President.

Nominations were closed and Miss Gilmour was unanimously elected to fill the position of Vice-President.

Herbert H. Wood, of Clallam County, was nominated for the position of Secretary.

Nominations were closed and Mr. Wood was unanimously elected for the position of Secretary.

Clerk V. Savidge, Commissioner of Public Lands, made an interesting talk to the Association on the work as being done in the lead office.

The Tenth Annual Convention of the County Treasurers' Association was no exception to the rule that each meeting held by this body of county officials is a little better than the last one. Important matters pertaining to the working for and making of better laws for the taxpayer and laws that will enable the county officials to have better efficiency in their respective offices were talked of with very good results. The convention was a success in every way.

The people of Port Angeles watched over us after business hours in a way that captured us heart and soul. When they took us by the hand and led us around and through the labyrinth of pleasures and guided us to the jewels on beautiful Lake Crescent, our appreciation knew no bounds. Their hospitality seemed to lead us to wonderland. Her smiling people, her fine climate, and in fact everybody and everything seemed to be on a committee of Joy and Happiness to make our brief stay a pleasant one to be remembered.

SMILES

First Olympic Hotel Roomer—I wish that old fog-horn would stop so I could get some sleep.

Second Olympic Hotel Roomer—That is not a fog-horn. Why that is the president of the Treasurers' Association practicing his speech.

Mr. Boyle is a little timid about speaking before the Association.

When Maude Gilmour smiles. Well, we always did like Ellensburg smiles. Is it because they are Normal? I don't know. Do you?

The "Ladies of the Lake" did not know that the Treasurers from the East Side had been fasting.

Some liked the fish and some liked "the water" at Deckmanns.

We think it proper that Mr. Boyle should be chaperoned at these conventions.

The punch at Ovington's was like an oasis in the desert, but it would take a football player to break through that line. We blame the Press Association for the "Punch Monopoly."

AT THE BALL

Mr. Arnold—Say, Mr. Carr, I wish you would teach me that new dance.

Mr. Carr—Which one?

Mr. Arnold—That "Salvation Dance" I saw you just dancing.

Mr. Carr—The Salvation Dance? What kind of a dance is that?

Mr. Arnold—Why, you danced on your heels to save your soles.

Eva King Burgett

In 1960 Eva King Burgett served on the Washington Association of County Officials Board of Trustees

Eva King Burgett was born on July 4, 1890 in Vancouver and raised on a dairy farm. She served as county treasurer from 1943 to 1967. During her service, an electric "booking machine" was used in creating the tax roll. Tax statements were hand typed. When she retired Ms. Burgett was the longest serving Clark County Treasurer since 1850. Prior to serving as county treasurer, she was the County Clerk from 1935 to 1943. Eva served as an elected county official for 32 years. In 1952, Ms. Burgett served as the President of the Washington State Association of County Treasurers and in 1963 as Treasurer of the Washington Association of County Officials. Eva was active in historical preservation efforts and the Vancouver Soroptimist Club. She died after suffering from a stroke on December 29, 1979 at the age of 89.

Dorothy M. Carlson

Born on June 20, 1920, Dorothy Carlson was a lifelong resident of Vancouver. In 1945, Miss Carlson began working in the Treasurer's Office. She served as Chief Deputy Treasurer from 1951 until the end of 1966 under County Treasurer Eva King Burgett. When Ms. Burgett decided not to run for re-election, Dorothy decided to run for the position. During Miss Carlson's time, two additional technological advances were made in the office: the first was a key punch machine for warrants and name and address changes. The second technological advance was the introduction of the first computer terminal which was connected to the Assessor's computer. The County employees in the Treasurer's Office voted to unionize. The office staff joined the Office and Professional Workers' Local 11. Most of the work in the Treasurer's Office continued to be processed manually. The 1970 census showed Clark County with 128,464 people, a 34% increase over 1960.

Miss Carlson served as the chairman of the Columbia River Gorge Commission from 1960 to 1966. She was also active in the Vancouver Business and Professional Women's Club and Vancouver Historical Society. In 1970, after only one term in office, Miss Carlson decided not to run for re-election. She died at the age of 62 on January 12, 1983.

TREASURER'S OFFICE HISTORY

By: Joann Jenny, Data Management Coordinator
Dianna Towner, Office Manager

In 1968 when Joann Jenny began working here, we had a Unisys computer, which was used to print tax statements and tax rolls. Everything else was done manually. The very first job Joann did when hired was to alphabetize tax statements prior to mailing to be able to group all statements for one taxpayer together.

The first change occurred in 1971 with the establishment of the Consolidated Computer Center. We had Data Processing keypunching staff in our office until they were moved to a location at City Hall. Then we had to batch and log all work, which was ferried back and forth to Data Processing. This even included boxes of tax statements (blank and printed) and tax receipts! Daily receipt balancing was done from a daily edit we received and was an especially tedious and lengthy process. Often times during peak tax periods it was not possible to have one day balanced before another day was completed. Balancing was even further complicated because it was done off of cash register tapes similar to adding machine tapes. Errors were very difficult to detect compared to the current journals created for each individual operator.

Then we got the IBM computer and in-office terminals for Users to do their own data entry. We still received a daily edit to balance the receipts, but now, with the addition of the IBM terminal, we could make the necessary corrections directly on the terminal. Still, we had tax rolls to manually post and redeemed warrants to stamp off! We had inquiry capabilities for Real Property, but with only three terminals and data that sometimes proved to be unreliable; we still could not completely rely on the system.

In 1986 we moved to the Hewlett-Packard system, enabling most everyone to have a terminal on their desk. With on-line entry, we no longer have to manually post to tax rolls or stamp off redeemed warrants. Daily balancing is faster and more accurate for both the cashiers and the Fiscal sections.

It has been quite interesting to see how our staff has adjusted with each change. We feel our office is in the best shape now than it has been in our time here. Systems are returning to more user control. We have increased system awareness (know what data is available). With Quiz we have the ability to generate reports for needed information and with access to the data base information the expertise to maintain more reliable data.

It is exciting to be a part of the planning for the future. Joann feels now the office has a place in current and future planning for data processing needs, which was greatly lacking in the past. It is exciting to think of the gains we will make in the future considering the progress we have made since 1985.

June Sparks

Previous to serving as County Treasurer, June Sparks worked part-time for a number of years at US National Bank in Portland, Oregon. She ran on a campaign platform of improving working relations with other elected officials and computerizing the finance and tax collection departments of the office. All the treasury and tax collection tasks were posted in large ledger books, and all correspondence was typed in duplicate (carbon paper). The County Auditor's Office provided the lead in the design of the county financial computer system with input from the Treasurer's Office and the County Assessor's Office, and the Treasurer's Office developed their parts to the assessment and taxation computer system. Both legacy computers systems were developed in COBOL by the County Information Technology Department which is under the County Commissioners authority.

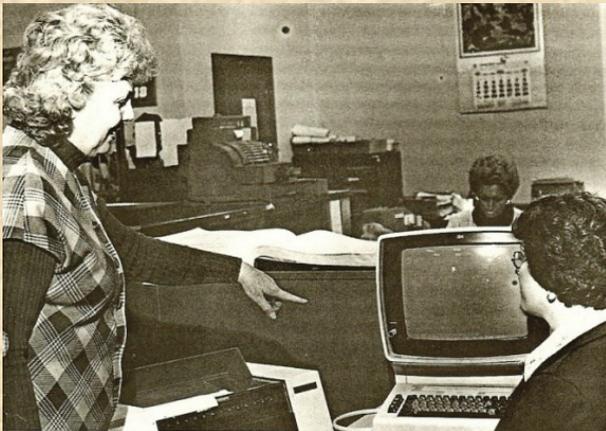

Hand posted Investment Ledger Book until 1986

Prior to Mrs. Sparks, the process of investing the public moneys was done by leaving the money in the bank drawing at a savings rate. June Sparks was one of the first treasurers in the state to invest public funds not needed for immediate use by sweeping the cash daily and placing the moneys in short-term instruments. Earning the extra interest earnings versus leaving the money in the bank stretched the earnings for the county and junior taxing districts. In 1980, there were 20 employees including the Treasurer in the Treasurer's Office. The total budget in 1980 for the Treasurer's Office was $391,434.

From June 1983 to June 1984, June Sparks served as the President of the Washington State Association of County Treasurers. June retired in June 1984 and submitted her resignation to the County Commissioners. She and her husband moved to New Mexico. A few years ago, she moved back to Clark County to be closer to her family.

Doug Lasher

Doug Lasher was appointed by the County Commissioners to the position of County Treasurer on July 5, 1984, after the resignation and retirement of June Sparks. Mr. Lasher was elected as county treasurer in November 1984 to complete the unfinished term of Ms. Sparks and had run unopposed at each election since until 2010. In 2010, Doug was opposed for re-election for the first time since 1984. He was elected to another four-year term.

Doug was born and raised in Clark County (Hazel Dell) and graduated from the Vancouver School District. He received his B.A. in Political Science and a Master's Degree in Public Administration from Lewis and Clark College in Portland, Oregon. Mr. Lasher worked in federal, state and county government (County Auditor's Office) before being appointed to fill the vacancy as County Treasurer.

At that time, there have constant computer, 1986, the ledger books.

there were 21 employees in the Treasurer's Office. Since 1984, there have been numerous changes in the Treasurer's Office especially due to improvements in technology – mainly the invention of the personal more powerful computer chips and the Internet. After February 1987, the Treasurer's Office no longer kept financial records by hand in ledger books. In 1987, to reduce costs and improve efficiencies, the County's Information System Department, along with the Treasurer's and Assessor's Offices, converted the County Assessment and Taxation System created in 1977 from an IBM-based system to an HP system. The conversion included new receipting, debt management, special assessment, and Real Estate Excise Tax Receipting modules.

Mr. Lasher was the second county treasurer in the state to create an investment pool for the county and taxing districts. The Investment Pool portfolio size today is a little over $600 million.

The Treasurer's Office continued to move forward in 1989 by purchasing a high-speed remittance and mail opening machine to process payments. The Treasurer's Office also signed a contract to process the City of Vancouver utility payments.

In 1990, Clark County's population was 238,053

Later in 1999, the Treasurer's Office and the Clark Public Utilities joined together to have one remittance processing center at the Clark County Public Utility District Headquarters in order to enhance technology and reduce costs in processing transactions. Over the years, additional utility customers were added including Tualatin Valley Water District, City of Camas, Clark County Animal Control, Clark Wastewater District, City of Longview, Cowlitz PUD, Eugene Water and Electric Board, and Clark Public Utilities.

Mr. Lasher served from June 1999 to June 2000 as President of the Washington State Association of County Treasurers. He also currently serves as Washington State representative on the Board of Directors of the National Association of County Collectors, Treasurers and Finance Officers and the National Association of County Officials, Intergovernmental Affairs and Finance Committee.

In 2000, Clark County's population was 345,238

In 2001, a Memorandum of Understanding was signed between the Assessor, Auditor and Treasurer to provide for the training and integration of a “one-stop customer service center” as part of the new Public Service Center building. This is the first joint cooperation in the state to provide one location for property recording, assessment, and tax collection transactions.

Property tax information was provided on the County's web site in early 2002, and in the fall of 2002, the County's Oracle Financial system was implemented.

After 63 years located on the southeast corner of the first floor of the Courthouse, the Treasurer's Office moved to the second floor of the Clark County Public Service Building in January 2003.

In February of 2005, the Clark County Treasurer's Office was the first county in the state to implement a county treasury web site that provides daily financial information and monthly financial reports to taxing districts over the Internet.

After 28 years, the County Commissioners approved the funding to replace an outdated assessment and taxation computer program. In March 2005, a Request for Proposal for a new assessment - taxation system was published and distributed. After a comprehensive analysis, a vendor was selected to implement the new assessment - taxation system in October 2005.

In March 2006, County Commissioners signed a contract with True Automation, a software vendor to design and install the new assessment and taxation system. After designing and testing the new system from scratch, the first phase of the new system went live in February 2009, and the second phase will be completed in early 2012. This was the county's largest computer conversion ever done. Before the second phase of the software project was finished, ten other counties in Washington purchased and installed the new system.

Personal computers are standard at every work station

An Oracle financial system upgrade occurred in early spring of 2006. The upgrade streamlined work flow and eliminated excess steps in preparing financial reports. It also allowed for quicker and more detailed reporting thereby reducing the costs in providing the financial reports.

Also in April 2006, the County Treasurer's Office began taking credit card payments for property taxes through the County Treasurer's web site and office. The following was a summary of the volume of work in 2009:

- Number of tax accounts over 165,000
- Accounted for over $10 billion in 470 funds for 40 local governments
- Managed an investment portfolio of $440 million
- Over the last ten years, the County's Investment Pool earned $26 million more than the Washington State Local Government Investment Pool
- Processed over $5 million payment transactions
- Administered a debt management portfolio of $800 million
- Customer service handled 28,500 phone calls
- And 18,700 customers came into the lobby

Due to the severe budget cuts in 2009 and 2010 to the Community Development Department staff (over 40%), the Assessor and Treasurer agreed in 2010 to help by having their counter staff in the Joint Lobby receipt building permits and animal licenses and add animal licenses to Remittance Processing Center Client list. During this time, the Treasurer's Office also had to cut three and a half positions. In addition, some key senior personnel left the Treasurer's Office to higher-paying jobs.

The Treasurer's Office partnered with Clark County real estate title companies to develop the first electronic data exchange in Washington to process Real Estate Excise Tax transactions and tax payments. At the end of 2010, the entire process was automated with a new Real Estate Excise Tax web portal resulting in significant savings for the public as well as for title companies.

In April 2010, the Treasurer's Office selected a new vendor to provide electronic checks, debit card, and credit card payment options on our web site or by phone. Taxpayers now have the option to mail their payments, use the Internet, or pay their taxes by phone without needing to leave their home or business.

The Clark County Finance Committee updated the Clark County Investment Policy. The County Finance Committee members are the County Treasurer (Chair), the County Auditor (Secretary) and the Chair of the Board of County Commissioners (member).

A new debt management software system to track over $800 million in debt/bond issues for the County and junior taxing districts was implemented in November 2010. Also, during 2010 there were major computer software system upgrades in investment, accounting and property assessment and collection.

In 2010, three members of the finance staff received the national Association of Public Treasurers Certified Public Funds Investment Manager certificate.

Independent Audit The State Auditor's Office conducts an annual audit of the Treasurer's Office as part of the county audit.

About the Treasurer's Office

What do we do?

The Treasurer acts as the "government bank" for the county, schools, libraries, ports and fire districts as well as for other entities of local government. In this capacity, Treasurer's Office staff receipts, disburses, and accounts for the funds collected through property and excise tax, court fees, state collections and other revenues. The collection of various taxes, assessments and fees benefit the citizens of Clark County by funding a wide range of services. In addition to the collection and disbursement of regular taxes, the Treasurer's Office issues refunds for tax adjustments authorized by the County Assessor or Courts. We also collect and distribute the real estate excise tax associated with the sale of real estate. In addition, we provide cash management, investment and debt management for both the County and the local governments we serve.

How we are set up?

The Treasurer is a constitutionally elected officer who serves a four-year term. The position is elected rather than appointed in order to provide independence from the Board of County Commissioners, the County Assessor, and the County Auditor. This independence provides checks and balances from all other various governments that have the authority to levy taxes and assessments versus collection of the payments.

How do we operate?

The Treasurer's Office is organized into three main departments: Tax Services, Finance, and Administration. These three areas serve to properly segregate duties for effective internal controls.

Tax Service functions include billing and collection of property taxes, special assessments, and other fees. They process the real estate excise tax on the transfer of real property and mobile homes as well as manage the adjustments to taxes and special assessments, process refunds, and review subsidiary accounts.

The Finance area includes Cash Management, Accounting and Tax Distribution, and Debt Management and Investments. The Cash Management/Accounting and Tax Distribution staff are responsible for the banking, transfers of monies, daily account reconciliation, general receipts redemption of warrants (checks), and monthly, quarterly and annual financial reporting. The Investment/Debt Management staff is responsible for managing investments for the county and junior taxing districts. The function of the Debt Management section is to borrow the money needed to operate County government in an efficient manner. The section is also responsible for accounting for and managing all of the County and junior taxing districts' outstanding debt obligations including arbitrage calculations, ensuring compliance with state and federal reporting requirements and timely reimbursement to investors.

Taxing District News

In 2010, despite tough economic times, voters valued public education as all eight replacement school levy measures on the ballot passed in February. The last time the voters in the Battle Ground School District approved a levy was in 2007. Levy dollars are essential to pay for items such as:

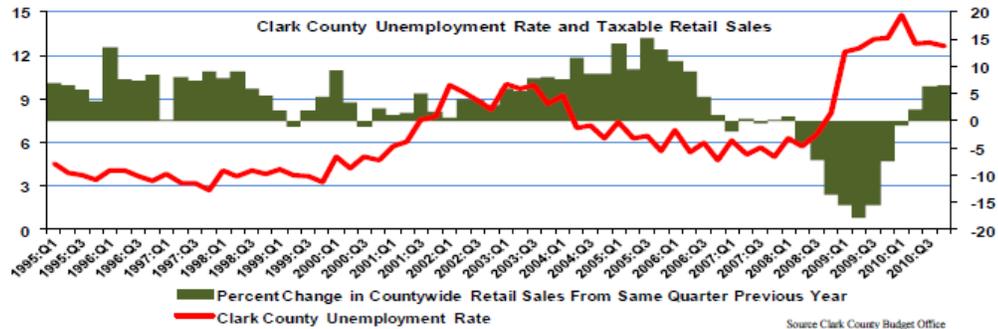

- Teacher and support positions
- Classroom supplies, textbooks and equipment
- Instructional technology and software
- Security monitors
- Maintenance of buildings and grounds
- Staff training and professional development
- Support for programs of choice
- Extended day/year learning
- Education for students with special needs
- Extracurricular activities and intramural sports
- Technology support in schools
- Substitutes
- Portable classrooms
- Utilities, insurance and fuel
- Student transportation

In August 2010, the voters renewed Fire District # 6's Emergency Medical Service's (EMS) six-year levy by a 78.8% yes vote. EMS responses encompass nearly 90% of the Fire District's emergency requests for critical service.

The Fort Vancouver Regional Library District voters approved a levy increase which restores library hours and provides an increase in library books and materials.

On November 5, 2010, the Camas-Washougal Port District celebrated its 75th anniversary commemoration and open house.

Economic Outlook-Future Challenges

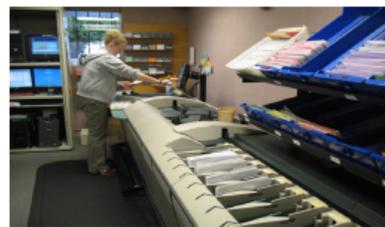

In 2010, all levels of government continued to face the challenge of maintaining the cost of services while revenues were falling behind in a weak economy. Clark County unemployment at the end of December remained high at 12.7% compared to 9.2% for the state of Washington.

Sales tax is 17% of the County General Fund. Since 2008, the reduction in sales tax revenues has had a major impact on the County budget, and as a result, the County overall has had to reduce its work force. Sales for all of 2010 were up 3.7% from 2009 but 17% lower than 2007 sales. (Source Clark County Budget Office)

Property tax payments were up slightly. Property taxes are a major revenue source for local governments. The collection rate for 2010 was a little higher at 97.2% compared to 96.46% for 2009.

The Clark County Treasurer's Investment Pool balances averaged $487.1 million for the year compared to an average of $459.2 million for 2009. Over the last 11 years, the Investment Pool has earned $24 million more for the taxpayers of Clark County when compared to the money invested in the Washington State Local Government Investment Pool. Low interest rates continue to make investing the public's money challenging.

- Goals for 2011:
1. Continue phase 2 of the development and installation of the new property tax software system which is replacing a 30-year-old software system.
 2. Utilize social media options such as Facebook as a communication tool.
 3. Enhance the Treasurer's financial web portal.
 4. Development of electronic billing through a third party vendor

2011 ACCOMPLISHMENTS & HAPPENINGS

- * In the wake of slow economic times for Clark County, the Treasurer's Office assisted taxing districts in evaluating their debt structure. Similar to consumers refinancing loans to take advantage of lower interest rates, this refunding activity saves taxpayers money. Our preparation of historical collections rates, assessed home value trends and other factors influencing cash flow helps districts make decisions that best fulfill their goals and needs.
- * Efforts continued in Phase II of the Property Assessment and Collection System (PACS) (see inset on page 3) - a system that replaces 30-year-old software previously in use.
- * Began preparations for a major county-wide upgrade to Oracle 12, the county's financial management system.
- * Initiated plans to enhance the Treasurer's Financial Web Portal for taxing districts and will go live with the improvements in late 2012.
- * Created social media accounts on Facebook and Twitter to improve communication with citizens.
- * Successful implementation of electronic Real Estate Excise Tax (REET) workflow to improve efficiency in processing documents.

Financial Reports The Treasurer's Office issues monthly cash basis financial statements to county fund managers and to districts for which we serve as ex-officio Treasurer. These are posted monthly to the Treasurer's Office web portal. The Treasurer's Office also prepares the county's annual statements on revenue, investment, and debt information as well as various disclosure notices that are included in the Clark County Comprehensive Annual Financial Report (CAFR). Complete financial information can be found at www.clark.wa.gov/auditor/financial/index.html.

WHAT IS PACS?

PACS is the Treasurer's Tax Collection Software. Phase One was implemented by Clark County in 2009. The Tax Collection software is integrated with the software used by the Assessor linking appraisal and levy activity under one software platform. The ability to manage tax collections efficiently and accurately is critical. This system creates bills, posts, and distributes payments among the numerous taxing districts. We use this system to create notices, process refunds, and provide excellent and accurate customer service to both taxpayers and districts.

About the Treasurer's Office

The elected county treasurer acts as the "government bank," not only for the county itself, but for the schools, port, library, cemeteries, fire districts and some of the cities within Clark County.

Within the Treasurer's Office, Tax Service staff work directly with the public receipting payments, disbursing payments to the appropriate districts' accounts, and processing all funds collected for property and real estate excise tax, court fees, state collections and other revenues.

The Finance area of the Treasurer's Office interfaces more directly with the taxing districts providing cash, debt, and investment management for the districts we serve.

How are Tax Levies Established?

Your property tax levy rate is an amount derived by dividing the amount of each taxing district's budget within the area you live (we call this a code district) by the total assessed value of the property within the district.

Each of the various taxing districts' levy rates are calculated in this manner and then added together to derive your combined rate. The budget determines the amount that will be levied, divided up among the tax parcels in the tax district. Your individual share of that budget is determined by your property's as-

2012 Accomplishments and Achievements

Debt Policy

The Treasurer's Office Debt Service and Compliance Policy was expanded and updated in 2012. This policy will be reviewed annually to ensure regulatory compliance requirements are met. The policy follows the recommended guidelines set by the Government Finance Officer's Association and the Municipal Treasurers' Association of the United States and Canada.

PhonePro

Are you a Phone Pro? The Treasurer's Office is learning how to be one. Being competent with respect to soft skills or interpersonal skills is just as important to the success of our organization as mastering the hard skills or the technical parts of our jobs. With full commitment to provide top-notch customer service, the office brought in PhonePro (<http://www.phonepro.com>) during 2012 to provide training for telephone etiquette as well as email and face-to-face communications. The goal was to improve and to enhance our relationships with customers, business partners, and within the organization with a focus on positive and productive communication.

Web Portal Phase III

In 2012, the Treasurer's Office completed Phase III of the Treasury Web Portal. Work performed in this phase included security enhancements, hardware and database upgrades as well as adding new functionality. The new functionality primarily focused upon allowing our district customers to schedule payments and transactions through the portal, which improves and centralizes communication and promotes transparency for all parties involved. The Treasurer's Office scheduled visits to portal customers in early 2013 to promote the new enhancements and provide hands-on training.

Final Phase of PACS

During 2012, the Treasurer's Office implemented three new versions of our Property

Assessment and Collection System (PACS) Software application. These implementations provided us with additional functionality for processing plat certifications more efficiently, completing mobile home movement permits in a more streamlined fashion, and the ability to perform all statutorily required delinquent products for our PACS application, which is scheduled to be delivered mid-2013. With the implementation of our workflow product we anticipate being able to track and communicate to all our customers the status of the majority of all individual property type transactions within our office. This will allow for customer service efforts to continue to improve, as well as to provide for consistent methods of handling transactions.

Clark County Treasurer Dong Lasher meets with Port of Camas Washongal Director Dave Ripp. The Port is home to over 40 businesses with an annual payroll of $8.9 million. The Clark County Treasurer is the ex-officio treasurer for the Port District.

Optional electronic billing of tax statements was implemented for the 2013 first half tax season through a contract with Doxo a third party provider in conjunction with our tax statement printer vendor.

The Clark County Finance Committee adopted on August 13, 2013 a comprehensive County Debt Policy prepared by the Treasurer's staff. The Policy establishes the County's requirements and procedures for ensuring compliance with federal laws relating to the issuance and post-issuance monitoring of tax-exempt bonds and taxable Direct Pay Bonds. The Policy also establishes the debt management activity the County Treasurer shall perform and the Treasurer's expectation of the other county partners' responsibilities. The Committee is composed of the Clark County Treasurer as Chairman, the Clark County Auditor as Secretary and the current Chairman of the Clark County Board of Commissioners.

In November 2013, Phase II of the new property assessment and taxation system designed by software vendor True Automation was completed. The installation of the software was a ten-year project that came within its budget. As per the contract with True Automation, there will be two annual updates for meeting statutory requirements, improving efficiencies and enhancements. There are now 12 other counties in the state of Washington that have implemented this software product.

Role of the Treasurer

The Clark County Treasurer's Office functions as the bank for the county as well as for the taxing districts (schools, libraries, fire and cemetery districts and ports). Our staff receipts, disburses and accounts for the funds collected through property and excise tax, court fees, state collections and other revenues that support County services.

In addition, the Treasurer's Office provides cash management, investment and debt management services for both the county and our taxing districts.

The Tax Service department staff interact the most with the public. These are the individuals the public sees when they come into the office to pay taxes, process excise transactions for real property and mobile homes, or have other tax-related questions. Tax Service staff also process adjustments to property taxes, based upon assessed valuation changes generated by the Assessor's Office, as well as processing special assessments and refunds.

The Finance area of the Treasurer's

Office interacts primarily with our taxing districts. Finance staff is responsible for banking and investing, reconciliation and reporting.

The Treasurer's Office improves the quality of life of citizens of Clark County in several ways. The centralization of collecting and receipting taxes, fees and utility bills etc. may be the most obvious and recognizable benefit, but there are others that aren't as clearly visible to the public. Taxing districts benefit from our expertise in financial analysis and budget management. The Treasurer's Office provides financial statements, cash flow projections, performs due diligence activities related to bond issuances and ongoing debt management, and prepares ad hoc reports as needed for other research.

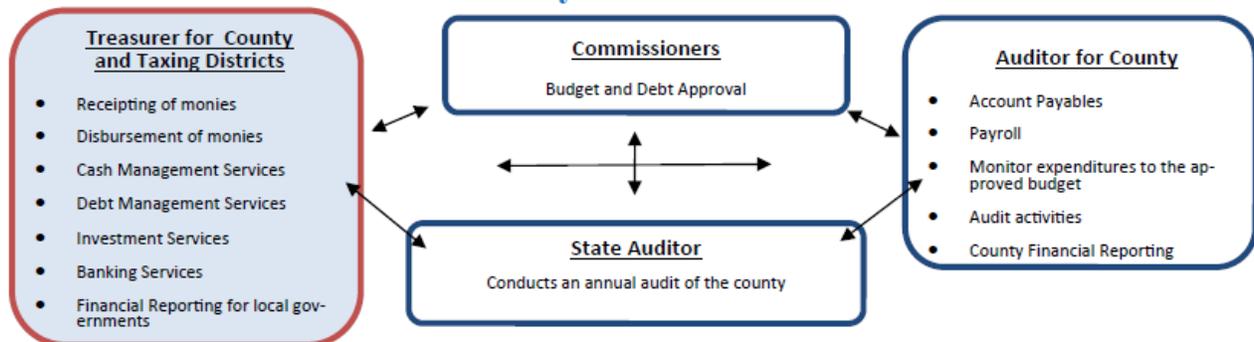

Another benefit to our districts is the ability to recognize efficiencies and economies of scale in financial services costs, such as discounted banking services fees. Also, local government labor and overhead expenses are kept to a minimum through centralization and the prevention of unnecessary duplication of Treasury activities.

Completion of PACS Phase II Contract

In 2013, Clark County completed work on the second phase of its property assessment and collection system (PACS). The County went live with the first phase of the PACS application in January 2009, and continued co-development for assessor and treasurer functionality with our business partner True Automation. PACS release 38 was placed into production in October, signifying the completion of the project. The County will continue to work with True Automation and the other PACS customers within Washington State to enhance and modify the product to respond to legislative changes and business requirements.

The County Treasurer has recognized a number of improvements with respect to how taxes are created, billed, collected and distributed to county departments and local taxing districts. With an annual property tax roll of over $525 million, the Treasurer's office:

- Creates and reconciles annual property tax rolls within five business days
- Generates tax statement exports for printing services within two business days
- Processes and receipts payment imports daily from multiple sources including mail, internet, bank bill-payer and mortgage company payments
- Distributes tax revenues daily to county departments and taxing districts
- Remits tax revenues daily to local cities and the Port of Vancouver
- Reconciles tax payments daily to the County's general ledger and bank accounts
- Reconciles accounts receivable monthly for taxes and assessments

PACS has provided the Treasurer's Office with a system that is scalable and efficient. It has given the Treasurer's Office reliable and accurate information, while providing improved reporting and transparency for both internal and external customers.

From Our Customers...

"The PACS system has enabled our City to obtain timely and current information, which is very helpful in preparing our budgets, Comprehensive Annual Financial Report and in preparing bond issuance documents. The City relies on the PACs reports to also track annexations and prepare financial analysis such as 'what-if' scenarios and revenue forecasts."
